Vol. 22

Chinook, Alberta, Thursday, March 16th 1944

CHINOOK BONSPIEL WAS HUGE SUCCESS

The Chinook Curling Club Annual Bonspiel, held on March 8th, 9th & 10th was a huge success although the weatherman tried to discourage us on Thursday giving us a real Chinook Breeze, which covered the ice with water and made the boys work to get their rocks up for a few hours, however he took pity on the boys who could not get the rocks up and changed the weather to a blizzard and the ice gradually got back into condition before the day was gone.

The prize winners were as follows:
Grand Challenge event:

- | | |
|--------|----------------------------------|
| First | Wm McCool, Youngstown, |
| Second | Special Areas Board, Youngstown, |
| Third | H. Jones, Chinook, rink |
| Fourth | Homer Butts, Hanna |

Merchants event:

- | | |
|--------|-------------------------|
| First | Homer Butts, Hanna |
| Second | Chas. Dougherty, Excel |
| Third | Ale Wood, Lanfine |
| Fourth | R. Reynolds, Youngstown |

The finals were played off at 8 p. m. Friday in both events and the ice was in lovely condition. A crowd of witnesses filled the waiting room to overflowing.

During the entire bonspiel the Chinook and district branch of the Red Cross had a booth at the rink, where real tasty meals were served. The amount realized for the Red Cross was $107.50.

In order to wind up the curling season the Chinook Curling Club will hold a dance on Friday March 24th, with the O. K. Orchestra in attendance. The lucky-drawing for the Gold Wrist Watch will be held on that night immediately before the Supper waltz and any who have not got their tickets will have an opportunity to get same the night of the dance.

Preceding the dance there will be a free showing of interesting Farm Motion Pictures entitled "Power at the Drawbar".

Fungicides on the Farm
Fungicides for the control of plant diseases and for general disinfection are used on all farms. Some of the best fungicides are the most poisonous and troublesome to handle. A careless person might have some difficulty in using either mercury dusts or formalin.

Mercury fungicides such as cere-san, leytosa, and lunasin, widely used for treating grain, are excellent fungicides and should not give trouble if handled as recommended. Avoid inhaling the dusts; work in a well-ventilated building or outside, and wear a mask. If masks are not available, tie a clean handkerchief over the nose and mouth. Suitable masks are not expensive. After handling poisonous dusts or solutions, wash up thoroughly, especially before eating. Avoid an excess of formalin on the hands, face or clothing. Left-over dusted grain should not be fed to livestock; it may be sown for green feed.

Formalin, an irritant and deadly poison, has been used for years by most farmers without serious trouble. They know it and handle it with the care an irritant deserves. It is a good fungicide and general disinfectant. Formalin treated grain may be fed to livestock after thorough airing. Farmers have used Carboline and lysol as general disinfectants without serious trouble, although they are poisonous. Sulphur is a good common fungicide. It is nonpoisonous except when burned for fumigation purposes; then the fumes are both irritating and toxic. Before using any fungicide, read carefully the directions printed on the container. Note the warning cross bones and skull, if any, and read the "antidote." If an accident occurs, call a doctor without delay.

Keep all poisonous material out of reach of children. Fungicides, insecticides, gopher and rat poisons should be kept together in a box or cabinet under lock and key. Clean up and put away all utensils used on fungicide mixtures or treatments.

Always use the best fungicides. The basic rules are simple, master them; apply the treatment and apply common sense—Do not be careless.—Contributed by Dr. P. M. Simmonds and Dr. H. W. Mead, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Saskatoon.

The Allied Air Offensive

RECENT ALLIED AIR ATTACKS on Germany have reached unprecedented proportions, and there is no doubt but that the results are devastating. In all democratic countries the people have high regard for human life, and concern for human suffering, so it is not surprising that there has been, from time to time, some discussion as to whether this great air offensive against Germany is fully justified. Allied authorities have frequently stated that only objectives of military importance are bombed, but it is inevitable that in raids of this extent, some damage must be done to the surrounding area. It must be remembered that attacks against military targets are in no way similar to the terror raids which have frequently been made on Britain, and which were a feature of Hitler's conquest of Europe. Germany is at war, and it should be expected that the lives and property of people living near military objectives will be endangered.

Nazis Started Mass Bombings

It should not be forgotten that the Nazis are aggressors in this war, and that it was they who first planned mass air raids, and undertook to totally annihilate cities. They did not hesitate to attack Rotterdam, Warsaw, Stalingrad, and many other centres of population, without mercy. They have destroyed London completely if they had not been turned back by the Royal Air Force, and they have caused great damage to many other British cities. When legitimate targets in Britain became too difficult to approach the Germans bombed cathedrals, hospitals, schools, and other purely civilian objectives, which were without anti-aircraft protection. In spite of all this, the Germans protest when Allied planes raid cities which harbor important war industries, and are heavily defended against air attack. It has been observed that it is to our credit that there has been discussion here as to the justice of mass air raids on Germany, but consideration of the facts leaves no doubt in this respect.

Germans Must Not Be Spared

At the end of the last war the Germans sought to ease the difficulty of their situation by appealing for sympathy, and it is expected that they will again try this method of avoiding the full responsibility for their crimes against other nations. Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt, and other Allied leaders have frequently stated that there must be no relenting on our part, and that we must not allow pity for the German people to stand in the way of victory and a lasting peace. This war has shown too clearly the true character of the German people for us to have any choice but to defeat them on their own soil, and to let them experience some of the hardships and horrors which they have chosen to inflict on other nations twice in less than twenty-five years. It is said that German military leaders realize that this war is lost, but that they are already planning means of conserving their resources for another attempt at world domination in the years to come. If this is to be avoided, and it must be, Germany's military power must be finally crushed now, without doubt or hesitation on our part.

Give And Take

Duke of Marlborough Get One On The French

Winston Churchill's great-grandfather, the Duke of Marlborough, once had as his guest the French Ambassador, a cynical, disagreeable personage.

"The house, the tapestries, the pictures—were they all given?" he inquired. "And the Raphael—was that the gift of the King of Prussia? Is there anything here that was not given?"

The Duke listened to the Frenchman with growing annoyance. Finally, when he could endure no more, he questioned no longer, he said, "If your Excellency will come with me, I will show you one of the glories of Blenheim which was not given."

Taking the visitor outside, he pointed to the stone trophies and the ruins of Louis XIV's army which stood south front of the house. "These," he said, "were taken, not given, by John, Duke of Marlborough, from the gates of Tournai."

Maple Trees

To Be Planted In English Cemeteries Where Canadians Are Buried

Maple trees are to be planted in English cemeteries where Canadians killed in this war are buried. J. A. Carroll, secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Association, told the association's 28th annual convention at Toronto.

Carroll said a shipment of maple seedlings was already on its way to Rees, Gardens, near London, where the trees will be planted for a time and then transplanted to the cemeteries later.

HIS MOVE

Once again the sergeant was going over his instructions to a rather timid recruit taking his first turn of duty in camp. "I understand that," he snapped. "If anything moves, you shoot." "Yes, sergeant," replied the recruit, speaking firmly for once, "and if anything shoots, I move!"

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Can my hairdresser raise the price of a permanent?
A.—No. The prices charged for permanent waves are the same prices that were charged during the basic period in 1941.

Q.—We have been buying baby chickens from the same hatchery for years. Can they raise their prices from $17 to $20?
A.—Under Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations there is no ceiling price on baby chickens.

Q.—How much notice must I give my landlord when I wish to move?
A.—If there is no lease you must give one clear month's notice if you pay your rent by the month, and one clear week's notice if you pay by the week.

Q.—Has the maple syrup ration been increased?
A.—Yes. Maple syrup may be purchased on the basis of one coupon for forty fluid ounces until May 31. After May 31 the coupon will be worth 24 fluid ounces. The coupon value of corn or any other blendable syrup has been increased from 14 to 15 ounces.

Q.—Are we allowed to tear out our own ration coupons in a store, or must we give the book to the clerk to tear out the coupons himself?
A.—This is a question that is often asked. You do not have to give the book to the store clerk. You may tear out the ration coupons yourself, provided you do it in the store and in the presence of the retailer, or the clerk you are dealing with.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumer's News" to the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your ration coupons) mentioning the name of the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

GARDEN NOTES

Seed Supplies Sufficient

While seed supplies will not be too plentiful, authorities are confident that there will be sufficient to go round. Before the war, seed in Canadian gardens came from almost every part of the world. Most of the old regular supplies are now out.

From Canadian and United States sources must come practically all of our garden seed supplies. Last year many Canadians tasted garden fresh vegetables for the first time in years. They came from the Victory Garden right at the door. They were amazed at how good the vegetables tasted when grown in their own gardens. Grown quickly and picked just before cooking, vegetables are full of natural sugars and the vitamin content is especially high.

Spacing the Rows

After the soil is worked up into fine tilth, the earliest of the vegetables may be planted. These may go in rows from 12 inches apart and wider, depending upon the size of the mature plants. Carrots, lettuce, beets, parsnips, etc., can be planted in 12 inch rows, but beans, peas, tomatoes, corn and potatoes will need 18 to 24 inches.

If we are lucky enough to have a tractor or horse for cultivating, then of course there will have to be more space, and two to three feet between all rows is not too much. Not only because it will be very much neater, but will also make cultivation easier, the rows should be absolutely straight and all plantings done along a string. Thus planted we know where the seeds are and it will then be safe and easy to cultivate even before plants have started to sprout. Peas, corn and such fairly large seeds are planted about one to two inches deep—five or six inches for potatoes merely pressed in.

Custom Made Flowers

Through plant breeding and natural selection, flowers have been developed to suit almost any location. There are some which prefer darker corners. There are stocks, nicotina, etc., specially designed to scent the evening air, and, hard to believe perhaps, there are things like portulaca that actually seem to thrive on neglect.

There are little, short chaps like alyssum and dwarf marigolds and lobelias specially bred to fit along the front edges of flower beds or to trim walks. There are tall hollyhocks, castor beans, ornamental sunflowers, cosmos and other giants which will make background and screen fences.

Y.M.C.A. Van

Two British Women Serve Tea Right Up On The Front Line In Italy
Right up near the Fifth Army front in Italy in a little Y.M.C.A. van are two British women—serving tea! As they drive to the front line, military police salute them and wave them through traffic jams, Canadian Y.M.C.A. headquarters learned.

They are brown-haired Lady Brockhurst, wife of Colonel Sir Philip Brockhurst, Cheshire, and her co-volunteer, Mrs. de la Pole Holland. Both are getting battle-hardened for serving tea to clamorous British troops making it difficult to keep an eye on the battle-darkened sky at the same time.

Lady Brockhurst was the first Y.M.C.A. woman in Italy. She gate-crashed into Sicily and there helped herself to a German radio van in Catania.

It is in this van that she has poured more than 1,200 cups of tea. The van follows the British front line troops on the Fifth Army front and has now been adopted by a division and given the right to carry the divisional sign.

Lady Brockhurst, in her green windbreaker and issue stockings rolled down as ankle socks, is almost as well known as a general.

"I think they would let us through the German lines to get a cup of tea," she said. "They are great boys, and will lie like anything to get an extra cup. They steal your tin mugs but come up smiling. They thrive on action—and on tea—and it is a joy to serve them."

Prairie Flowers

Classified List Of Plant Life In Manitoba Is Prepared

Among the different lines of research carried on at the University of Manitoba is that in the field of Botany, and to think that the province is the nearest professor of Botany, has produced an impressive, classified list of all plant life in Manitoba. He names 1,400 flowers and ferns.

First in the estimation of Manitoba people is the Prairie Anemone, a beautiful flower, but also the herald of spring, which is a consideration. Professor Lowe's list is full of impossible scientific names, but the common names are also given and the habitat of each plant, in one or other of the five vegetation regions of the province, each with its own characteristics of soil and climate. Everyone is delighted to see the wild flowers in the woods and on the prairie in the springtime, but those who pride themselves on the number of wild flowers they can identify, may be interested to know that the late Norman Criddle found and named 400 within ten miles of his home in western Manitoba.

Professor Lowe's work is a creditable piece of research with definite scientific value. — Winnipeg Free Press.

Tumbling Mustard

Single Plant May Bear As Many As 1,500,000 Seeds

Tumbling mustard was first introduced into the Prairie Provinces from central and southern Europe about 1887. Each pod contains about 120 seeds and a single plant has been known to bear about 1,500,000 seeds. When the seeds are ripe, the whole head breaks off and is blown across the prairie, scattering seeds far and wide. As the seeds are not easily shed from the tough pods, a head may be blown about the prairie for a whole winter, dropping a few seeds at intervals for many miles.

Mercury has been known for at least 2500 years, but its wide use is a development of recent centuries.

A Main Course Without Meat

How is the "meat situation" at your house? We must not forget that rationing and shortage can never be used as an excuse for failing to measure up to the family's food requirements.

Meals are built about main course dishes—the vegetables and dessert are planned to round out a meal which takes its character from the main course. We have come to think that the meat must be the item of central interest—and for a very good reason too. Foods of this type belong in any well-balanced menu as they provide an important part of the protein needed by everyone, every day.

Proteins are needed for the growth and repair of the human body. Proteins are not alike, and in general, protein made from animal sources is more efficient than that from vegetables—milk protein has all the essential parts. The vegetables richest in protein are dried peas and beans. If you can combine these excellent foods with milk, you will have achieved a protein dish that will worthily substitute for the meat of the main course.

Here's a recipe the family will enjoy eating and that you can serve with satisfaction.

BAKED LIMAS

2½ cups dried lima beans	2 cups milk
1 cup diced celery	3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped onion	4 tablespoons flour
5 tablespoons chopped green pepper	1½ teaspoon salt
2 dried hard-cooked eggs (if possible)	¼ teaspoon pepper

Wash beans, cover with cold water, and let stand overnight. Add salt, cook till tender and drain. Cook celery in small amount of boiling water till tender. Cook the onion and green pepper in the butter till tender but not browned. Blend in the flour, salt, and pepper and gradually add the milk. Cook, stirring constantly till the mixture is thickened and smooth. Add the beans, celery and eggs. Turn into greased dish and bake for ½ hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Will serve eight.

SMILE AWHILE

Alice: "What makes you think your new photographs are so horrid?"
Glady's: "All my girl friends ask for one, and my male friends don't."

"I hear there are twins at the Bates house. Boys or girls?"
"I think one's a boy and the other a girl—but it may be the other way round."

Father: There's plenty of time for our daughter to think of getting married. Let her wait until the right man comes along.
Mother: Why should she? I didn't.

Employer (interviewing applicant for job): "Know anything about electricity?"
"Yes, Sir."
"What's an armature?"
"A chap who boxes for nothing!"

Missionary—"Poor man! So you know nothing of religion."
Cannibal—"Ah, yes. We got a taste of it when the last missionary was here."

Widower—"You are the sixth girl to whom I have proposed without avail."
Girl—"Well, maybe if you wear one when making your seventh proposal, you'll have better luck."

"No," snapped the old man, as he scanned the menu. "I won't have any mushrooms, waiter. I was nearly poisoned by them here last week."

The waiter leaned confidently across the table.
"Is that really so, sir?" he said, blandly. "Then I've won my bet with the cook."

Scot: "I want to rent a horse."
Groom: "How long?"
Scot: "Longest you got—there are five of us going."
